Columbia Candy Kitchen, 22726 Main Street, 209-532-7886

www.columbiacandykitchen.com

- The historic Columbia Candy Kitchen is a privately family-owned business that has been making confections in Columbia for over 90 years. The shop features confections of the 1800's, like licorice and hard candy drops with flavors such as peppermint, clove and lemon. These candies are made on an 1873 hand crank roller that is still used today. Candies are sold by weight as they have been since the Gold Rush. Current-day favorites are also available.
- Open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. All visitors are welcome to experience what an old-fashioned candy store is like.

Bella Union Restaurant, Corner of State and Main St.

- Restaurant can accommodate 120 people in the dining room, 140 in the Banquet Hall and up to 80 in the outside dining area (weather permitting).
