James Woodward Aerial Slide Collection

The James Woodward Aerial Slide Collection represents aerial photography created and compiled by James Woodward during his time with California State Parks. The collection is organized by park name geographically (North to South) within the Department districts as the districts were organized in 1998. This collection index also includes the dates the photographer captured the images in slide format. We retained the original district groupings as they reflect the physical arrangement of the collection by the donor and the order the slides appear in the series of binders holding this collection. Additional aerial photographs appeared in the slide and print collections under the individual park units.

Special Collections: John H. Plimpton Research Records

The John H. Plimpton Research Records Index lists the materials gathered by John H. Plimpton when he worked for California State Parks as a Ranger. Plimpton's research, which demonstrates great personal interest in California history, focused on the historic and natural elements along the confluence of the North, South, and Middle forks of the American River. Plimpton divided his research geographically, organizing the multi-volume set along the physical path of the American River and its branches. The albums document a variety of materials, from Plimpton's typed research, maps, copies of historic photos, then-contemporary photos of resources, advertisements, letters, etc. The albums and their contents are currently only available for viewing on-site at the Photographic Archives. We transcribed volume index information when available; for volumes lacking indexes, brief descriptions of the contents were included instead. Additional notes regarding the indexes:

A single asterisk ("*") denotes side of river unknown.

Two asterisks ("**") denotes location on river unknown.
