

THIS COULD BE YOU!

Volunteers in California State Parks

Are you creative, enthusiastic, motivated and willing to share your passions with others? California State Parks offers an astonishing array of opportunities for volunteers. Meet new people and help preserve and protect California's extraordinary state parks. Share your time and talents with us; we will provide the tools and the training.

Here are a few of the ways you can assist park staff:

- Lead interpretive tours and campfire programs
- Staff visitor centers
- Interpret historical sites
- Check campgrounds
- Groom trails
- Help protect native plants and animals
- Participate in living history events and reenactments
- Help teach schoolchildren

To learn more about how to volunteer with California State Parks, visit www.parks.ca.gov or contact the Volunteers in Parks Program at (916) 653-9069.
